

Mohamed Samir Sief Al Yazel

Ph.D in Studying & Restoration of Antiquities (University of Rome, Italy, 1971)

M.Sc. in Architectural restoration (University of Rome, 1966, Italy)

B.Sc. in Architectural Engineering, Fine Arts Faculty, University of Helwan, 1960 (Egypt)

Current professional activity:

Professor in Architecture and Restoration in the Fine Arts Faculty, University of Helwan

Related professional experience:

Professor in architectural restoration in the Antiquities Faculty of the University of Cairo

Supervisor and teacher in the Architectural Restoration Faculty of the Institute of Restoration of Antiquities in Luxor

Supervisor of the Architecture and Restoration Faculty of the University of South Valley, Luxor

Coordination of workshops and classes at the Egyptian-Italian Centre for Restoration and Antiquities in Cairo

Coordination of courses on architectural restoration for delegations of the Islamic Soviet Republics at the University of Cairo

Member of the Italian Centre for Restoration and Antiquities in Rome

Member of the Egyptian-Italian Centre for Restoration and Antiquities in Cairo

Advisor to the Italian Embassy in Cairo

Member of the programme committees of various architectural restoration congresses in Beirut, Soor, Tanta and Cairo.

Advisor on restoration work to: Tekiaa in Seofia Street in the citadel area of Cairo, the project to move the temple of Hebies, the east express railway layout, El Ashraf Gautebay mosque, Cabsh castle in Sayda Zienb, fountain, school and cemetery in Radwan Agha, Lajea El Seify mosque in Sayda Zienb.